Name of conference: War, Through Other Stuff: Non-Military Narratives, Artistic Interpretations and the Material Culture of Conflict
-Conference topic/theme: This interdisciplinary conference will be dedicated to the alternative histories of conflict. Through papers, presentations, film screenings, performances, object handling sessions, and discussion, this conference will explore the impact of conflict on cultural and social life, representations of war in art and culture, and find war in unexpected places. Non-military, non-traditional narratives and repercussions of conflict can be found everywhere: in artifacts, literature, music, architecture, film, food, fashion, and the products we use in daily life. The aim of this conference is to take another look; to re-address our understanding of conflicts throughout history by using a different lens.

Name of conference: Relations between China and its Neighbors during the Cold War: New Sources and New Perspectives
-Conference topic/theme: The primary focus will be to use analysis of the various media (press, newsreels etc.) to examine the direct perception of those central Cold War events by the victorious powers, in West Germany, and in the Soviet occupation zone/East Germany. In addition, we will illuminate memories of the Blockade and the Airlift by examining the ceremonial aspects (organization, process, response) and public speeches (development of a narrative); the anniversary and its symbols (posters, stamps etc.); how they are embedded in Berlin’s topography and beyond (monuments, plaques, renaming of streets); and the museum aspects (memorial sites, Tempelhof Airport, Allied Museum, memorial site in Fassberg etc.). In that way, we can uncover the formative historical-social references and symbolism of the memory site “Airlift.” We will also incorporate a look at how the Airlift has been dealt with in the various forms of artistic expression, such as film (fiction and documentary), photography, literature (novels, thrillers, comics etc.), music, and painting, as well as an analysis of other media such as radio, video games, and even textbooks. For it is only via these various avenues that we can achieve a true impression of how the memory site “Airlift” is embedded in society.
-Dates of conference: 11-13 March 2017
-Location of conference: East China Normal University, Shanghai, China

Name of conference: “Ukutshona kukaMendi”: The Mendi Centenary Conference
- Conference topic/theme: This conference commemorates the sinking of the SS Mendi that occurred during the First World War, on 21 February 1917. It pays tribute to the South African Native Labor Contingent, and the men on the Mendi who died en route to fight for their dignity and human rights through service to the war effort. The conference seeks to explore the struggle against oppression and dispossession, and particularly against the Natives Land Act of 1913, as a reason why these men left their homes in rural South Africa to contribute to the war effort. It also aims to examine the roles played by black intellectuals such as Samuel Edward Krune Mqhayi, Solomon T. Plaatje, and John Dube in the recruitment of men to the South African Native Labor Contingent, and in dealing with the aftermath of the Mendi tragedy.
